

THE BALLOON WENT UP

In the Ninth Inning and the Logan Players

WENT WITH IT.

When They Returned the Game Was Lost.

Sunday's game with the Canal Winchester team was a dim, dark, doleful tragedy. Never was victory snatched from the jaws of defeat with greater celerity and forthrightness, than in the ninth inning of that fateful contest.

FIRST INNING

Glie went out, Riley to Beck, and Becker followed, Myer to Beck; Jordan fanned.

Webb fled to first, Martin grounded to short, and Myer fled to left. Corwin pitched only three balls this inning.

SECOND INNING

Boyd singled, taking second on a wild pitch; Thrush, Morehart, and Dovel fanned in rapid succession.

Beck doubled to left; Canty fled to first; Buntz made the bag on a miff of his third strike by Thrush; Dill popped a little fly which was taken by Thrush.

THIRD INNING

Saylor's grounder went through Beck; Corwin made first on a play of his grounder by Buntz to Martin. Saylor going out; Glie fanned, and Becker's leaguer back of first was taken by Beck.

Lytle caught one in the short ricks, getting second on a miff by Saylor; Riley struck out; Webb put a "bad fly" to right center. Dovel making a fine catch; Martin grounded, Saylor to Morehart.

FOURTH INNING

Jordan bunted safely and got second on a miff by Martin; Boyd, Thrush, and Morehart struck out. For the second time in the game, Riley retired three men by his elegant work in the box, each time with a runner on second.

Myer fouled to Thrush; Beck singled and was left at first, Canty dying to Glie and Buntz striking out.

FIFTH INNING

Dovel was hit by a pitched ball; Saylor singled, and Corwin fanned; Glie went out; Riley to Beck, a great stop by Riley; Becker shot a hot grounder to Myer, who played it home, putting out Dovel.

Dill got two bases on a wild throw by Glie to first, Lytle popped to Glie; Riley's grounder was played to third to catch Dill, who got the base on a miff by Glie, and scored; Webb again fled to Dovel; Martin singled, scoring Riley; Myer went out on a fly to third.

SIXTH INNING

Jordan fouled out to 'Canty; Glie and Thrush fanned.

Beck singled, making three hits out of three times at bat, but was caught in a double play on Canty's fly to center, Jordan making an elegant catch; Buntz grounded out, Becker to Morehart.

SEVENTH INNING

Morehart grounded to Buntz; Dovel and Saylor struck out.

Dill died, Becker to Morehart, and Lytle, Corwin to Morehart; Riley was hit by Corwin, and camped on first, Webb flying to Jordan.

EIGHTH INNING

Corwin was hit by Riley and got second on a passed ball; Glie put a long fly to Lytle, a good catch; Becker's grounder to Myer was fumbled, and a miff a moment later by Myer allowed Corwin to score; Becker was caught between second and third, and run out; Jordan went out, Riley to Beck.

Martin grounded, Becker to Morehart; Myer struck out; Beck made first on a fumble by Becker, but was run out in an attempt to steal second.

NINTH INNING

Boyd singled; Thrush's grounder passed Myer; Morehart got first on fielders choice, Boyd going out, Riley to Myer; Dovel struck out; (Now here's where the balloon went up, with the score two to one in Logan's favor, and two men out); Saylor singled, scoring Thrush; Corwin got first on a grounder to Myer, which the latter attempted to play to third, ineffectually; Glie drove a long fly to right center, which was muffed by Lytle, scoring Morehart and Saylor; Becker singled, scoring Corwin; Jordan singled, and Dill let it pass him, Glie scoring. The agony ended by Becker being thrown out at home, on a series of assists beginning in center.

Canty popped to Saylor; Buntz went out, Becker to Morehart; Dill singled and stole, Lytle struck out, and the spasm was over, with the score six to two for the visitors.

New Baggage Law.

A bill of great importance, both to railroads and the traveling public has been passed by the House under suspension of the rules regulating the checking of baggage by common carriers. The bill compels common carriers engaged in interstate commerce to check baggage to its destination on transportation offered whether in the form of what is known as "split tickets" or a regular form of ticket on one line, and a mileage or other ticket on another line to the destination of the baggage. The bill is intended to overcome the practice of roads which now refuse to check baggage to its destination where a ticket to the junction point or termination of one road is offered and a mileage book or other transportation on the connecting road to the destination of the baggage is offered. The bill makes a refusal on the part of the railroad to carry out its terms a misdemeanor and provides a penalty for its infraction.—Exchange.

The Ohio Magazine.

We are in receipt of Volume One, Number One of "The Ohio Magazine," for July 1906. It is published in Columbus, and is evidently designed as an exponent of Buckeye principles, history, and philosophy, as well as a journal of American patriotism. The cover design is a color reproduction of the flag of Ohio, which may surprise many of us who didn't know Ohio had a flag. The inserted frontpiece, "An Ohio Idea," is a drawing by A. M. Ensminger of a chic and handsome girl, who strikes us as a very fair incarnation of the Buckeye article. Among the contents of this number are an article by Andrew Carnegie, entitled "Stanton, the Patriot," illustrated with three portraits; the story of Cedar Point, by Conrad Wilson; Heroic Literature of the War of the Rebellion, by Gen. Sherwood; and numerous other fascinating contributions, illustrated and otherwise. This enterprise will meet, we trust, with deserved recognition and patronage. It enlarges and improves upon the idea of the "Heeperian Tree," fathered by John J. Platt a few years ago, and is well calculated to please all who, like us, believe that Ohio is the largest, best, richest, most populous, progressive and patriotic of all these United States. We forgot to mention that the magazine is edited by Mr. Webster P. Huntington, which in itself is a guarantee of its excellence.

The White-Haired Senate.

When Hon. William Pinkney Whyte, of Baltimore, entered the United States Senate, on 11th, as the newly appointed Senator from Maryland, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Gorman, he was says the Baltimore American, the observed of all observers as the newest member and possibly the most distinguished figure of Senatorial group such as is really unique in the Parliament of the world. He will exceed in years by only two Senators, Hon. Edmund Winston Pettus and Hon. John T. Morgan, both of Alabama. Mr. Whyte was born Aug. 9, 1824; Mr. Morgan June 20 of the same year; Mr. Pettus is the elder of both by about three years, he having been born July 6, 1821. The "Grand Old Man" of the British Parliament years ago, Mr. Gladstone, was eighty-five at the time of his retirement. Senator Perkins, of California, is sixty-seven, and his colleague, Bard, is only two years less; Teller, of Colorado, was seventy-six in May, and his colleague, Patterson, is sixty-six; Cullom, of Illinois, is sixty-seven, and Allison, of Iowa, is his senior by several months; Blackburn, of Kentucky, who will retire next March, is sixty-eight; Frye, who may be called the "Grand Old Man" of Maine, will be seventy-five next September, and his colleague, Hale, Saturday, June 9, celebrated the rounding out of his three score and ten years; Gallinger, of New Hampshire, is verging close upon seventy; Dryden, of New Jersey, is sixty-seven; Platt, of New York, will be seventy-three in July, and his colleague, Dewey, is only a little more than a year his junior; Proctor, of Vermont, was seventy-five the first day of this June.

Such a roster of seniors cannot, probably, be found in any other parliamentary body of similar numbers, and most of those mentioned have seen long continuous service.—Democrat & Watchman.

Tired of Telling Lies For Nothing.

We are tired of telling lies and with this issue we announce the following schedule of prices: For telling the public a man is a successful citizen, when everybody knows he is as lazy as a government mule, $2.70; referring to a deceased citizen as mourned by the entire community, when we know he will be missed only by a poker circle, $10.13; referring to some gaudy woman as an estimable lady whom it is a pleasure to meet, when every business man in town would rather see the devil coming, $8.10; for calling an ordinary pulpit pounder an eminent divine, 60 cents; sending a doughy sinner to heaven, $5.—Exchange.

Miss Lucy Westenhaver visited friends in Athens, Saturday.

Yes, Everybody Knows.

(Hocking Republican.) Everybody knows just what defeated a part of our county ticket last fall. And everybody knows or soon will know that the same thing will be done this fall if a few disappointed leaders have their way. But the people have their eyes open, and will not suffer a second cutting of their eye teeth. These same leaders will not be protected this fall by the faded mantle of the sage of Athens. He has had his last say in the dictation of Hocking county politics. He is down and out.

(Journal-Gazette.)

Yes, everybody does know what did more to defeat the ticket in this county last fall than anything else. The rank methods employed to perpetuate a central committee was one of the biggest factors. That a certain man should have the power in this county was more important to him, and his friends, than Republican success, so affairs were run last year just as they are being attempted to be run this year, not for the good of the party, not with any idea of securing the election of tickets, but with the sole idea of the little, close corporation or partnership controlling things.

Yes, the people have their eyes open a little wider. They know more of the boss and his methods, and it will be just a little bit more difficult to fool the people. Even the smooth editor, recently discovered in Ward with his two column articles in the Hocking Republican, cannot make an argument that will convince the Republicans of this county that the firm of White & Ricketts is the whole Republican party, dictating candidates, policies, appointments and all things belonging to the Republican party in Hocking.

The "mantle" spoken of so lightly will no doubt be called for ere the snow flies for the man who made the 11th Ohio district famous and stands today the leader of the house, has among the Republicans in the Eleventh district an army of friends who are not unmindful of twenty years of valuable and valiant services to the great Republican party. Some little county newspaper may talk about him being "down and out," but when he is, people in other states will ask who is in the house from Ohio?

It seems a little paradoxical that a paper conceived and begotten for stirring up trouble should become so important a factor for Republican success. Only last November its editor said, "Fred Bright ought to have been beaten," and its main backer has opposed part of the county ticket in most every campaign for years. Its long winded editorials written by a man whose name is not at the head of the editorial column, will not soon convert the rank and file of the party that Mr. White is laboring only for the success of the party. The Journal-Gazette is a Republican paper and stands always for the success of the ticket from top to bottom. It has the courage to say what it believes and denounce crooked politics. It believes that all that is needed for success in Hocking is an organization made fairly and honestly by the voters. Upon that it insists for the party's success is dependent upon the people and not upon a boss.—Journal-Gazette.

Elected This Fall.

Columbus, O., June 27.—By a decision of the supreme court county commissioners will be elected this fall. It was held by some that under the law of last winter extending the terms of county officers, there would be no election of county commissioners this fall. To test the question Sheriff Mulhearn of Cuyahoga county refused to issue a call for the election of commissioners. Under the Williams law all three commissioners will be elected in 1908 and biennially thereafter. In the same decision the court holds that commissioners take office the first Monday in September, following their election, instead of Dec. 1. Both dates were fixed in the muddled law.

Mr. C. A. Monroe, of Columbus, has been visiting friends and relatives here for several days. Mr. Monroe has had the misfortune to suffer a partial paralysis of the tongue, and has been advised by his physicians to discontinue business for a time.

A Word To Ward

Ward township Republicans evil notes, that factional affairs in Logan are growing red hot and the possibilities of electing a ticket this fall looks very discouragingly. The fight that is going on is essential and must be brought out before the people both through the press and the poles. The sign is good and will eventually bring peace and harmony. As Ward township Republicans we have only to look and take items. What we want is a strong organization in our own township, an organization that will be able to cope with either or both factions, an organization that will prove itself Republicans, for Republicans and for the advancement of our own people. Bossism is putting up it's dying struggle and though it is dying hard, the death Angel is hovering over it and when at last the final breath is drawn, we may march on to victory and success.

The Golden Circle of Ward has a mission in part is to oppose Bossism, Ringism, Gangism and deal with those who believe in the voice of the people, who believe that the people rule, that the people have the first right that the people are above any boss or dictator, that the people should have the power of selecting candidates and suggesting federal appointments where public sentiment is consulted.—Murray City News.
